DEPARTMENT OF CLASSICS

THE BEAN CLASSICS SCHOLARSHIPS

The Department of Classics and the College of the Holy Cross offer competitive merit-based scholarships to outstanding high school graduates who will major in the Classics at Holy Cross. Each year we award two Rev. Henry Bean, S.J., Scholarships, which are four-year, full-tuition, merit-based scholarships. Candidates are expected to have a strong background (equivalent of four years) in Latin and/or Greek, and significant academic achievement in all other subjects and on standardized tests. While standardized test scores are not required for admission to Holy Cross, candidates for the scholarships are required to submit their scores on the standardized tests (SAT Math, Verbal and Writing, Latin SAT II, and/or Latin AP Exam) they have taken. The scholarship is renewable annually, provided that the student maintains a strong academic record and continues to be a prominent Classics major. Joining the ranks of more than sixty Classics majors at Holy Cross, Bean Scholars work closely with professors who are dedicated to the teaching of undergraduates. Bean Scholars take a minimum of 14 courses in Classics. Past scholars have gone on to successful careers in academia / education, medicine, law, business, government, and technology. A visit to Holy Cross is not a requirement, but applicants are strongly encouraged to arrange for an interview by phone, online, or in person during the fall semester. Applications are due January 15, 2017. Final notifications about the scholarships are coordinated with the Office of Admissions.

In addition to the application required by the Holy Cross Office of Admissions, applicants for Bean Classics Scholarships must also send to the Chair, Department of Classics:

1. This Application Form, along with a Personal Essay in which you discuss your background in Classical studies and your plans and aims for being a leader in Classical studies at Holy Cross.

2. At least two letters of recommendation from your high school teachers, sent under separate cover; one letter must be from a Classics teacher and should be sure to include an evaluation of the student's proficiency in the languages.

DEADLINE: APPLICATION MUST BE RECEIVED BY: January 15, 2017
