

College of the Holy Cross
Tenure Track Position

The Department of Chemistry seeks analytical chemists for a tenure track position to begin August 2010. The primary teaching responsibility includes Analytical/Instrumental Chemistry with Laboratory, as well as a course in the area of his/her specialty and General Chemistry with Laboratory (in alternate years). Holy Cross is a selective, Jesuit, liberal arts, undergraduate institution situated 40 miles from Boston. More information about the College, Department, discovery curriculum and research program can be found at <http://www.holycross.edu>. Send a letter of application, official undergraduate and graduate transcripts (Ph.D. required), three letters of recommendation, a statement on teaching philosophy (including course interests) and a description of research plans (including estimated start-up costs, and how undergraduates will be involved) to: Analytical Search Committee, Department of Chemistry, College of the Holy Cross, Worcester, MA 01610. Review of completed applications will be conducted as they are received until October 9, 2009. Holy Cross belongs to the Colleges of Worcester Consortium (<http://www.cowc.org>) and the New England Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (<http://www.newenglandherc.org>). The College is an Equal Opportunity Employer and complies with all Federal and Massachusetts laws concerning Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action in the workplace.