

The John D. O'Connell Prize for Accounting Excellence

Members of the class of 2011 currently majoring in Economics/Accounting are invited to apply for the John D. O'Connell Prize for Accounting Excellence. The prize, established in 1994 recognizes an outstanding junior Economics/Accounting major.

The award was established to honor the long-standing service of the College's distinguished accounting professor, John D. O'Connell. Applicants for the prize must have an excellent academic record, a record of meaningful service to the College community and a demonstrated interest in the profession of public accounting. The College's accounting faculty will review the applications and select this year's recipient. The prize includes a cash purse and an engraved desk set. Previous winners include Sheila Donahue '10, Meaghan Cassidy '09, Jessica McCaffrey '08, Carolyne McCarthy/Jacqueline Timpone '07, Walter Phifer '06, Meaghan Fallon/Eileen Grunert '05, Lindsay Signori '04, Natasha Scott/David McCarthy '03, John Delfino '02, Katie Harrington '01, Jamie Linden '00, Mike Pasqua '99, Maura Sullivan '98, Erin Carberry '97, Jon Monson '96, Christina Mercogliano '95 and Jennifer Gregorski, '94.

Students wishing to be considered for the prize must submit (1) a resume and (2) an unofficial transcript from STAR. If you are involved in additional activities not detailed on your resume, please feel free to include a letter to the Committee or additional descriptive materials. Committee members will review the applicant's resume and transcript and identify the candidate best representing the traditions associated with the award. Announcement of the winner will be made at the accounting banquet later this semester.
