NEW Psychology requirements starting with the class of 2019

Note: Minimum of 10 Psychology Courses need to graduate; a maximum of 14 may be taken.

REQUIRED COURSES
- PSYC 100: Introduction to Psychology
- PSYC 200: Statistics
- PSYC 201: Research Methods
- PSYC 305: History and Theory

3 FUNDAMENTAL AREA COURSES
1 course in Biological Processes
- PSYC 220: Perception and Social Neuroscience
- PSYC 221: Physiology and Behavior
- PSYC 235: Cognitive Neuroscience
- PSYC 253: Evolution of Behavior
- CISS 199: Introduction to Neuroscience

1 course in Cognitive and Behavioral Processes
- PSYC 223: Learning
- PSYC 225: Developmental Psychology
- PSYC 236: Cognition and Memory
- PSYC 237: Psychology of Language

1 course in Individual, Social, and Cultural Processes
- PSYC 226: Personality
- PSYC 227: Social Psychology
- PSYC 228: Psychology of Adolescence
- PSYC 229: Abnormal Psychology

DEVELOPING INTERESTS COURSES
3 Elective Courses, at least one of which must be an advanced (i.e., 300 level) course
- Social Science Course outside the Psychology Dept.
- Natural Science Course outside the Psychology Dept.

AP Credit
Students with AP credit in Psychology are awarded advanced placement in the curriculum and forfeit that credit if they take PSYC100 Introduction to Psychology. AP credits count toward the minimum number of (10) of courses required in the major.