

Welcome

Welcome to the HOLY CROSS ACADEMIC CONFERENCE 2019 sponsored by the Office of the Provost and Dean of the College. This annual event is a celebration of over 415 Holy Cross students and their independent work over the past year under the guidance of faculty members in the performing and visual arts, social sciences, humanities, and natural sciences. These presentations required the collaboration between students and faculty advisors and reflect the creativity and hard work over the year.

The students presenting and performing at this conference represent but a fraction of the independent and group-project student work that has and will occur this year. As the academic year draws to a close, the Academic Conference is a time to allow us to celebrate the independence, creativity, intellectual discipline, and deeper understanding of self and subject that all our students have developed while at Holy Cross and the role that the faculty members have played as mentors and model teacher-scholars.

Without the interest, enthusiasm, follow-through, flexibility, and guidance of the faculty and administrative sponsors of the academic programs, this event would not have been possible. Our thanks to Professors Susan Elizabeth Sweeney (Scholar Programs) and Susan Cunningham (CIS), and to the concentration directors, department chairs, academic program coordinators, conductors of musical groups, and directors of Department Honors programs. Special gratitude goes to Edward O'Donnell for offering our student participants a pre-conference workshop on effective presentation skills, and Matthew Gamber for organizing student contributions to the cover design.

Our sincere thanks are also extended to the academic administrative assistants, Tom Parsons and Sharon Matys (Graphic Arts), Chip O'Connor, Suzanne Sousa and Elizabeth Rice (Conference Services), Christina Guittar and Jennifer Parks (Hogan Dining Services), June Caron (Facilities), and John Buckingham and Paul Rayne (Audio-Visual - ITS) for their long hours, attention to detail, and technical support in putting together this event.

Deep gratitude is extended to Crystal Orton, Provost Office Coordinator, for her creativity, imagination, organizational skills, and tireless work in making this year's conference a success. Thanks also to Tabitha Fields ('21), who works in the Provost's Office and has taken on whatever task we have given to her with good humor and skill.

Finally, our thanks to the Holy Cross students and faculty mentors who have worked together in the classroom, laboratory, studio, and stage to prepare for these presentations and performances.

Congratulations to all!

Mia Yee '19 | Asians Eat Food and Drink Bubble Tea: The Co-Construction of Contemporary Asian Food Spaces and Asian (American) Identity

Fenwick Scholar Presentation and Reception
Rehm Library | 4 – 6 P.M.

In her yearlong project as the 2018-2019 Fenwick Scholar, Mia Yee employs anthropological and architectural analysis to examine the experiences of Asian (American)s in contemporary Asian-identified food spaces. Exploring the co-construction of space and intersectional identities, as reflected in her use of the more inclusive term Asian (American), Mia argues that contemporary Asian food spaces serve as a platform for Asian (American)s to engage in self-work. At the same time, these spaces are specifically constructed to deliver “authentic,” cosmopolitan, and yet commodified Asian food experiences to their patrons. Through ethnographic interviews and participant observation, Mia analyzes the ways in which experiences of young Asian (American)s within these foodscapes are classed, gendered, and racialized, and are also influenced by the dynamics of their generational status, their self-orientalization, and their histories of transnational migration. By examining the food spaces themselves, Mia investigates how designers and proprietors create a forum for the negotiation of Asian (American) identity. The particular aesthetics and taste choices of these individuals (who often identify as Asian or Asian American themselves) craft a constructed experience of “Asia” that Asian (American) patrons interact with and consume. Mia’s Fenwick project also focuses on the ways in which digital technology has extended the boundaries of space beyond the physical environment into virtual domains. She considers the use of social media by Asian (American)s as an extension of their experience of and engagement with physical food spaces, arguing that this is a critical component in understanding how contemporary Asian food spaces allow Asian (American)s to engage in identity making.

Mia wishes to thank her advisors, Professor Ann Marie Leshkovich (Anthropology) and Professor David Karmon (Architectural Studies), and her readers, Professor Ke Ren (History) and Professor Amy Feinstein (Visual Art History).

TRASH THE DRAGON!

Join us marching from Brooks-Mulledy to the Hoval between 11 and 12 for an “anti-celebration” of plastic waste with a parade of costumes, dragons, and marching band. The Global Society Cluster of Montserrat will be accompanied by I Nyoman Catra’s Balinese band, Bleganjur. Students from the Nativity School’s 7th-grade Science class will be part of the march. At the Hoval we will pile our wearable trash into recycling bins. A team of gymnasts spelling Reduce, Reuse, Recycle will engage us with an energetic floor routine. We will “occupy” the Hoval for the duration of Wednesday’s Academic Conference providing a backdrop for posters and conversation. Our goal is to raise awareness of our contribution to environmental degradation and to encourage conservation efforts at Holy Cross. Faculty participating: Shirish Korde (Music), Virginia Raguin and James Welu (Visual Arts), Ellen Lokos (Spanish), Scott Malia (Theatre), Morris Collins (English), Ji Hao (Modern Languages) and Stephanie Yuhl (History). WRATH: A New Play WRATH is a new play translated and adapted from the Homeric epic the Iliad. WRATH tells the story of the greatest heroes of the Trojan war and their loved ones: the Greek Achilles and Patroclus, and the Trojan Hector and Andromache. What does it mean to be good in the face of war? How can we balance our obligations to ourselves and others? Please stay after the performance for a talkback- an opportunity to ask questions of the production team and cast.

Uni2ACT – Cierren los ojos / Close Your Eyes

Performance followed by a Q & A to discuss and process the complex and timely issues addressed in the play.

Q & A MODERATORS: Prof. Ellen Lokos, Prof. Helen Freear-Papio, Dean Amit Taneja, Dean for Diversity, Equity & Inclusion/Chief Diversity Officer, Troy Thompson, Creator, Executive Director of The No Evil Project and with the participation of the Uni2ACTORS

Seelos Theater | 7:00 P.M.

Cierren los ojos, or Close Your Eyes is an original work written by the student-actors of Uni2ACT, the College of the Holy Cross's bilingual theater troupe. Inspired by both the No Evil project and current events on campus and in the world, this play intertwines the stories of young people who are trying to make their way in a world that keeps changing the rules. Looking at the complicated issues that relate to the #me too movement (sexual assault and harassment), racism and LGBTQIA + awareness specifically, Cierren los ojos challenges its audience to demand a world based on empathy and respect.
