THREE LECTURES PREPARED OF ECONOMIC COURSE

Railroads Only Way of Handling of Distribution of Living Resources

Mr. John M. Fitzgerald, of the Eastern Railroad Advisory Council and former vice-president of the Great Northern, gave a special course of cost soundings on the large-scale transportation on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. The course was arranged by Mr. Pruden and other members of the Eastern Economic Council, as an integral part of the course in Economics.

The Eastern Railroad Advisory Council is the subject considered by Mr. Fitz- iger. He stated that the railroad was the most important of all the means of transportation and that the railroad is going to continue to have a great influence on the economy of the country. He also stated that the railroad is the only way of handling the distribution of living resources.

Medical Opportunities Afforded At Oxford

By Calvin J. O'Keefe, D.P.Hill, former Rhodes Scholar, now Yale En¬

Due to the interest in international affairs among the students of the States, especially since the World War, the number of students going abroad to study has been increased, and a correspondingly keen interest has been aroused in the Rhodes Scholarship. The scholarships are tenable for three years at the University of Oxford, they carry a stipend of six hundred pounds a year, and the holder of the scholarship is equivalent to that of the larger universities of the United States. It is one of the principal forms of articles of academic and philosophic interest have been set forth, and this num¬ alitarian and attractive facilities are offered to the student working in the field of study in a work field, this work has been the result of the past two decades in bringing the scientific aspect of university endeavors to a level that has been noted English and continental universities.

The Purple golf team will inaugurate its third season as a varsity sport whenever it travels to Providence to encounter a strong aggreg.

The varsity will be in the unseasonable weather which has ensued for the past few days. The golfers are far from the best of their form. However, there are signs in the fact that the 4th men players have shown the greatest improvement.

The order in which the above will go is not as yet given out.

The University of New Hampshire has invited the Intelligentsia Winter Sports Club for the third consecutive year to the annual meet of that organization, held at Dartmouth Collage, New Hampshire, the New Hampshire named places.

McGill University, of Montreal, Que., was a close second to the meet. Dartmouth and Syrakus took third and fourth places, respectively.

Henry C. Eisenbath, the second player of the team, is a graduate of Xavier Preparatory, New York City, where he was captain of the debating team for two years. In his freshman year he represented Holy Cross in the annual junior varsity debate against Boston College. He was a member of the Music Club for three years, an associate editor of the Purple, and managing editor of the Tomahawk.

Three prominent and impartial panelists have been selected as judges. They are George B. Wells, H. H. Spill, and Frederick E. Currie, Superintendent of Schools in Southbridge.

Dissociates Discussion, Operation and Administration of Railroads

The subject discussed by Mr. Fitzgerald on Wednesday night was "Problems of Railroads." A recent distribution problem, set forth in the letter of Mr. E. J. Cross from Aga with milk during the New England broad. Secretary of Commerce, is requested by the dairy and milk dealers to provide them with fifty-ea ears of milk daily for the purpose of the cirelts. This milk was carried by the railroads from Virginia. In such a climate it is impossible to make milk in the dairy, and then send it to the railroad stations.

The great cost of transportation
in distribution is evidenced by the large charges for transportation of milk, especially when it is in the form of cream. The price of cream in New York City is doubled by the time it reaches the market. The milk ships are
