¡Hola!

My name is Tamara and I’m one of the Spanish FLAs this year. I’m from San Carlos de Bariloche, a beautiful city located in Patagonia, Argentina. Bariloche is a very touristic city because it is surrounded by lakes and mountains, so you can go skiing in winter and enjoy the beaches in summer. The landscapes and views are amazing.

I’ve lived there until I finished high school, when I decided to move to Buenos Aires to continue my studies. I graduated with a Bachelor’s degree in Psychopedagogy at "Universidad del Salvador", a career which could be defined as a combination between pedagogy and psychology. Our professional goal is to explore different aspects which influence the teaching-learning process of people, including children, teens and adults, in order to prevent, diagnose and treat learning disabilities.

I really enjoy listening to music, dancing, hanging out with my friends, cooking, doing sports, shopping, reading and watching movies and series. I have to admit that I also love food! There are many delicious and traditional Argentinian recipes that I’m willing to share with you.

One of the things that really makes me happy is to travel. The multiplicity of cultures present in the world amazes me! And there is no better way to get to know them than by discovering new places and meeting new people. Therefore, being a FLA at Holy Cross is a great opportunity and I’m really looking forward to it!

I hope to be able to show you the culture of my country during our time together and to learn more about yours too!

¡Nos vemos pronto!
