

JENNIFER L. A. WHELAN (she/her)

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Coordinator of Research & Information Literacy College of the Holy Cross, Worcester, MA

2014 – present

Coordinate and lead efforts to integrate information literacy in the curriculum and manage the smooth operation of the Libraries' research support services. Build collaborative relationships with disciplinary faculty and support collection building and review in assigned areas. Design and implement targeted information literacy instruction and provide research support across a range of modalities.

- Design and implement information literacy instruction targeted to course-specific and library learning outcomes, with particular focus in the areas of History, Classics and Religious Studies.
- Collaborate with the Head of Research, Teaching & Collections and other librarians to develop and execute projects to support research and information literacy across the Libraries' different departments and branches, including Archives & Distinctive Collections.
- Provide high-quality, individualized research support to students, faculty and staff through face-to-face, Zoom and e-mail consultation.
- Manage library resources for designated subject areas, including reviewing and tracking faculty requests; researching, identifying and ordering materials to support curricular needs; and advising on new electronic resource acquisitions.
- Partner with the Assessment Librarian and the Office of Assessment & Research to assess the value and efficacy of instruction activities and to align the Libraries' instructional program to the ACRL Framework for Information Literacy and the College-wide Information Literacy requirement.
- Design, administer, and continually revise multimodal training curricula in research skills for 8-12 undergraduates, including direct supervision of the Libraries' Peer Research Consultant program (up to two students simultaneously).
- Coordinate the Libraries' research support programs, including managing scheduling and logistics and supporting data collection for the activities of 9 librarians (instruction, consultations, chat and e-mail reference, etc.); maintaining reference service points; and managing Holy Cross' participation in the AJCU Virtual Reference Project.
- Serve as primary contact and administrator for the Libraries' Springshare suite, including maintaining general information guides, the Libraries' A-Z list, and instruction/consultation-booking calendars; monitoring broken links and coordinating biannual content reviews; and providing support to staff in all library departments as needed.

Research, Instruction & Outreach Librarian College of the Holy Cross, Worcester, MA

2013 – 2014

As inaugural Outreach Librarian, managed outreach and marketing for the library via online presence, print marketing, and programming. Provided research support across a range of modalities. Designed and implemented targeted information literacy instruction.

- Led cross-departmental Outreach & Engagement Team in the creation of a year-round library outreach program including events, displays and information campaigns.
- Substantially revamped and expanded the Libraries' social media and web presence, and monitored and documented feedback and other opportunities for outreach.

- Created and managed the bi-weekly Student Advisory Board (2014-2018).
- Represented the Libraries at Admissions and other campus events, including initiating and developing an annual presentation for Accepted Students Day (ran 2014-2019).
